$134K FOR FEMALE AMENITIES AT TERRIGAL RUGBY CLUB

Terrigal Rugby Club has been awarded $134,800 to construct new female change rooms and upgrade female toilets, thanks to funding from the NSW Government's Infrastructure Grants program.

Member for Terrigal Adam Crouch said the new facilities would be accessible to Rugby Club members as well as the general public.

"Terrigal Rugby Club will be fitted out with showers and change areas that offer privacy for female players," Mr Crouch said.

"This is a long-overdue improvement given the enormous increase in female participation in all sports.

"Terrigal Rugby is one of the Coast's largest sport clubs and I congratulate them on their successful funding application."

Terrigal Rugby Club President John Stevens said the funding was a massive boost for women in sport.

"Not only will this benefit our female rugby teams, but also women's cricket teams and the many women that train at The Haven each day. The change rooms will be exclusively used for women and have showers attached," Mr Stevens said.

"We would like to thank our local member, Adam Crouch, and the NSW Government for their support in improving access to sport for people in our community."

In this latest round of Infrastructure Grants, 32 organisations have received a total of $4 million across the categories of sport and recreation, arts and culture, disaster readiness and essential community infrastructure.

Mr Crouch said further Infrastructure Grants funding is now on offer.

"Types of projects eligible for NSW Government funding include new or upgraded sport facilities, museums, theatres, homeless shelters and evacuation centres," Mr Crouch said.

"There is a total of $12 million on the table for organisations across the State, with funding targeted towards delivering tangible, long-term benefits to local communities."
